

Tenth International Games for the Deaf

*Carl Barber, Teacher
High School Department*

The long-awaited 10th International Games of the Deaf were held in Washington, D. C., the week of June 27-July 3. Around 725 athletes, representing 27 countries, gathered in the nation's capital two weeks prior to the Games to train and compete in qualifying events. The athletes, coaches and officials were quartered at Gallaudet College.

The opening ceremonies took place at the University of Maryland Byrd Stadium on Sunday afternoon, June 27. The university campus was the site of most of the events, with a few such as bicycling and swimming being held elsewhere. The huge collection of athletes, lined up in groups and identified by their national flags, presented a colorful spectacle. At the top level of the stadium was a gigantic scoreboard proclaiming words of welcome in fourteen different languages. Among the speakers was Secretary of the Interior, Stewart Udall, who read a message of greeting from President Johnson. Following the speeches, about 1,000 gas-filled balloons were released; high and away they floated, signaling the start of the Deaf Olympics, the first ever held in the United States. After taking the Olympic oath, the athletes paraded to the exit and moved to seats in the stands to watch entertainment on the field.

On the basis of the two weeks of training and trials, it was expected that the USA team and the USSR team would vie for top honors. As the games progressed the Russians jumped to a big lead in winning gold medals. The USA team was second best all the way, winning most of the second and third place medals.

The following is a rundown of the CSDR sponsored athletes:

Tom Henes: 3 silver medals for 2nd in 400 meter dash, 2nd in 800 meter run and 2nd 1600 meter relay team.

Greg Brown: silver medal for 2nd in Greco-Roman wrestling and bronze medal for 3rd in free style wrestling.

Bobbi Hutcheson: silver medal for 2nd in tennis singles and bronze medal for 3rd in tennis doubles.

Dick Ramborger: bronze medal for 3rd in javelin.

Etta Smith: bronze medal for 3rd in table tennis.

Bill Ramborger: 4th in long jump; 4th in triple jump; 5th in javelin.

Charles Marsh: eliminated in triple jump.

Bobby Skedsmo: defeated in time trials.

David Dobrovec: defeated in time trials.

Rene Gamache: eliminated during games; hampered by sore heel.

Kendall Doane: eliminated in swimming time trials.

Greg Decker: eliminated in swimming time trials.

Tom Green: qualified for the games in swimming but lost in preliminaries.

Patsy Carlsen: 6th in 800 meter run.

Linda Parker: 7th in 800 meter run; 5th in javelin.

Mike Mahoney: did not participate due to illness.

The final event of the week was the IGD banquet and ball, attended by over four thousand people. Accommodating the throng were two of Washington's finest hotels, the Shoreham Hotel and the Sheraton Park Hotel.

Yugoslavia will host the XI International Games of the Deaf in 1969.

Now Hear This

This year, more than ever before, we are trying to impress on the boys and girls the importance of good grooming. We have even gone so far as to put down in writing the rules governing what we feel will be acceptable attire both in school and out. This includes shoes, haircuts, length of skirts, types of swim suits which can be worn at our pool, shorts, and make-up.

To further impress the boys and girls with good grooming, we have revived the custom of dressing up on Fridays. The older boys must wear white shirts and ties, slacks and polished shoes and the girls, their Sunday clothes. We have found this to be a great morale booster among the students as well as reducing the number of behavior problems.

In spite of our efforts to instill high standards among the pupils, we still have the boy or girl who refuses to conform. By conforming, I do not wish to imply that he or she must fit a rigid pattern, because we have set the limits of acceptable attire on a broad base. With the girls we have the problems of skirts too short and usually too tight around the hips, extreme hair-dos, and much make-up. With the boy it is his hair which he wishes to keep long, his high heeled boot shoes, and skin tight pants. Included in this nonconformity is the matter of attitude, which I generally find to be very poor.

It is an interesting point to note that no one of these boys or girls from the "Go-Go" set is a leader among the student body here at CSDR. Not one of these boys or girls was elected to any student body office. They are not leaders in athletics and their academic achievement is very poor.

It is my opinion that in requiring these boys and girls to "shape up" now in terms of personal appearance and attitude, we will have fewer pupils in the future who will find it necessary to "ship out."

Nursery School—Parent Institute Held at CSDR

The second Nursery School-Parent Institute was held at this school the week following the close of the regular school session. Ten parents and nine children were in attendance. Five parents and their children lived in the residence hall during the week. The others lived close enough to commute.

The children were in the nursery class during the day except at rest and meal time. The parents had a full schedule of lectures, a workshop at which they made materials to be used with their children and demonstrations of their children which were viewed on closed circuit television. They also had the opportunity of observing the children during their free play in the same manner.

It was the unanimous opinion of the parents that the Institute was a worthwhile project and that they felt better equipped to meet the needs of their children.

Athletic Insurance Coverage

A new law passed by the California Legislature requires every member of an athletic team (both boys and girls) to have accidental bodily injury insurance providing at least $1500 of scheduled medical and hospital benefits, and at least $1500 accidental death benefit. This law includes "any student who travels to an athletic event of such team because he performs duties in connection with the team or the athletic event in which the team participates." Coverage for travel by team members, yell leaders, team managers, and drill teams which perform at half time, etc., is mandatory.

Because of this law any boy or girl who wishes to participate in sports must either show evidence of coverage according to law or purchase insurance provided by the school. The school provides insurance coverage under the California Interscholastic Federation Protection Fund. This plan provides the legal coverage at a cost of $3.40 a year for all sports except football. The cost for protection in football is $12.00.

Junior High, 1965-1966

This year there are 16 classes in Junior High School and there are 15 teachers. We use a letter for each class. We start with Class A and go through Class P. The total number of boys and girls in Junior High is 146. Fifty boys and girls came to Junior High from Elementary School. Thirteen new boys and girls came to Junior High from various schools.

Pattie Burrell

Junior High School Changes

We have several changes in Junior High this year.

In previous years we have had a 45 minute period for each class. This year we have double periods which help us learn more in each class and seems to save time for us, too. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday we have one teacher for a subject for two periods and on Thursday and Friday for two periods we have a different subject with a different teacher. Then on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the second week we have the same teacher and subject for two periods. On Thursday and Friday we have the same teacher that we had the first week on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This is experimental, but everyone seems to like it.

This year we have a home room. Each morning at 8:15 we go to our home room teacher for a few minutes. We say the pledge to the flag, fill out attendance slips, copy daily vocabulary, check student appointments and discuss rules and anything special for the day. Instead of copying daily vocabulary in each classroom, we copy two words daily in our home room class. Some classes have monitors or class presidents, who preside during home room periods.

Last year we went to rhythm during academic class time, but now rhythm is scheduled during our speech classes. We like this much better because we're not using precious academic time.

Almost every class in Junior High School is having modern math this year. It is very new to us and we must really concentrate but are beginning to understand it. We like it better than old-fashioned math.

A Visit With Congressman Tunney

During the Deaf Olympics fourteen athletes from Riverside, with Mr. Thornton, went to the Capitol for a short visit with our Riverside congressman, John Tunney. He was pleased to see us, and we were thrilled to meet him. He introduced us to his three secretaries and two or three of his workers. In his second floor office we spent about 20 minutes talking and taking pictures. We wrote our names and addresses in the guest book. Congressman Tunney gave us each passes to visit the House of Representatives and the Senate.

We had our picture taken on the front steps of the Capitol. Then we all went quietly into the House where they were having a session. Before we went in, a man told us to leave our cameras and notes behind in a room. It was exciting to see our Congress at work! From there we went to the Senate which wasn't in session. We were surprised at how different the rooms were. Some of us liked the House better than the Senate.

We also visited the Rotunda, the central room of the capitol floor. It was very huge and beautiful.

Outside of the I.G.D. program, this was a special treat for us Riversiders.

Gregory Lee Decker

Flight to Washington, D.C.

On June 12 my parents, Connie and I went to the Los Angeles Airport in the morning. When we got there, we went to the TWA office to check out the luggage and to confirm my ticket. The manager of the airport met us and he guided us upstairs to a private room where there were many other members of the Olympic team. One boy had flown from Hawaii and he was already tired.

At 9:15 the members of the Olympic team got on a jet. When the pilot started the engine, I was a little scared because I had never been on a jet before. When the jet lifted up to 25,000 feet high, I felt very funny.

They had a movie on the plane. We also had a very good lunch. Boy, I couldn't believe that a jet ran smoother than a Rolls Royce.

The jet ride from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., took about four and one-half hours. When we arrived at Dulles Airport, some students and teachers of Gallaudet College met us and drove us to Gallaudet College where we Olympians stayed for the I.G.D. I enjoyed myself on the jet and I will never forget my first ride.

Michael Mahoney

A First Experience

On June 14 we Olympians went to Washington, D.C., by jet plane. The jet transportation seemed a miracle to us because it took us about four and one-half hours to arrive at the District of Columbia from California.

We slept on the Gallaudet College campus for three weeks. We had exercises three times a day. The second week we Americans were host to the Europeans, and we helped them with many things. We also had wonderful socials, and we learned what kind of life the Europeans led.

The third week the International Games for the Deaf opened at the University of Maryland. The first day we Olympians were in a parade. The next day we had thrilling games. I made sixth place in 800 meters; a Polish girl won first place. My time was 2:39 instead of 2:47 as in practice.

Taking part in the I.G.D. was a very wonderful experience for me.

Patsy Carlsen

My Trip to the Olympics

I went to the International Games for the Deaf in Washington, D.C., this summer with a group of athletes from California.

After we arrived at Gallaudet College we had to go down to a basement to get passes for our meals and find a place to sleep. Then after supper, Charles Marsh guided us around the campus.

The next morning we had to get up and practice running on the Gallaudet track. We practiced three times each day for one hour before meals. Most of the time I practiced running the 880 but once in a while I practiced the javelin throw. Usually the girls practiced from 2:00 to 3:00, then the boys practiced from 3:00 to 4:00. Some of the girls and boys practiced for several hours. Our coach was Mr. Thornton. He worked with the long distance runners.

A week after we arrived we got our uniforms. We got blue blazers, black skirts, blue blouses and black shoes for dress uniforms. Then we got our practice clothes and our official racing uniforms. We also got a travel bag filled with perfume, books, cards, a first aid kit, hand lotion, maps, gum, candy and other things.

On Sunday, June 26, we participated in a big parade at the University of Maryland. The games started on Monday and went through Saturday. I raced in the 880 on Wednesday afternoon, then threw the javelin later on the same afternoon.

After the Olympic games were over, I went to Columbia University and stayed there for two days. I went with friends from Texas to many stores and ate in some cafes. One evening I went with a group to see the Empire State Building. A guide pointed out a building and said it was the Empire State Building, so we took a picture of it. Then we went closer to that building and another girl said that it was not the Empire State Building but that on the other side was the Empire State Building, so we took another picture. We saved the first picture to remember that we had made a mistake. We went to the top of the Empire State Building where it was windy and cold.

The next day we went to the New York World's Fair and stayed all day. There were many things that were very interesting to see and learn about.

I really enjoyed being in the east.

Linda Parker

Random Notes

This year we have three girls and four new boys in High School. Jacqueline Miller and Dieter Baumert interviewed the seven students. We warmly welcome each one.

The boys are eighteen years old and they are glad to be back at CSDR which they had left at the time they were in Elementary School.

Seventeen year old Jeffrey Lenham, a former student of Alhambra High School, likes all sports, and his hobby is working on cars.

Janice McMahan is eighteen years old. She came to us from the Berkeley School for the Deaf. Her favorite sports are water skiing and surfboard riding. She likes her classes and the girls in Shasta I very much.

Mario Rosas, a sixteen year old boy, came here from Santa Fe High School. He enjoys volleyball. He also likes this school. Carolyn Stem is sixteen years old and she previously attended John H. Glenn High School. She likes all sports and is happy to be here with us.

Christi Tarango will be seventeen in November. She came from Villa Park School. She enjoys playing volleyball. Christi has never been at a residential school and she finds this a big new experience.

SECOND ANNUAL ESSAY CONTEST HELD

Michelle Craig and Gregory Lee Decker—Riverside, Winners

FIRST PRIZE

What Is My Responsibility To My School

One of the most important contributions a person may give his school is a good name. The best way I can contribute to the good name of my school is to consider the different aspects of school life and to understand my part in supporting each. My school life seems to fall into four divisions: the classroom, the activities, school spirit, and school representation outside of school.

Before I can analyze these divisions. I should understand myself and be aware of others and their needs. It is important that I try to live in harmony with others and be friendly with all.

In the classroom I have a duty of paying attention to the teachers and being sure to know what the lesson is. My attention is also required at lectures, assemblies, and functions in the school.

In school activities I should participate in different clubs and join in sports whenever possible. I should cooperate and show enthusiasm in helping and volunteering to do projects for school organizations.

In the area of school support I should show good school spirit, which means cooperating with the students, faculty, and school officials. I should learn to understand school regulations and to follow them. I should take good care of school property and keep the school campus clean by not being a litterbug or writing on walls. At athletic games I should give my full support to our teams by encouraging them even if they lose. If I am on the team it is up to me not to be an exhibitionist, but to play by teamwork.

Outside of school I would show good representation by behaving well off campus as well as on. I must remember that I am an example of my school no matter where I go, and it is my duty to be a good one.

I should, at all times, be friendly, respectful, courteous, helpful, and thoughtful. If I fulfill all my responsibilities, I will help give my school a good reputation and my school will be respected by outsiders.

Michelle Craig

Judges for the contest were three professors from Gallaudet —Leon Auerbach, Robert Panara and Mervin Garretson.

SECOND PRIZE

What Is My Responsibility To My School

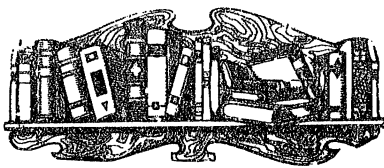

When we look in the dictionary for the definition of responsibility, it says: that for which one is answerable; a duty or trust; the ability to meet obligations.

We can see that responsibility is a big word with a big meaning. I find much meaning when I look into the following areas of responsibility, all of which I consider important in my daily life at school.

1. Loyalty: To be dedicated to the purpose and rules of my school. I owe my teachers, counselors, and fellow students the best effort I can give at all times to make my school the most outstanding one of all schools for the deaf.
2. Co-operation: To promote harmony in all activities among my peers and to be friendly at all times, help to provide an environment for cooperation that is necessary in large groups.
3. Participation: To be active and to participate in classroom discussion, school activities and in athletics.
4. Respect: To show respect to all teachers, workers and students. Most of this includes respecting the ideas and rights of others.
5. Service: To be able to give help whenever possible to whoever asks for it. To go out of my way to help and encourage other students to take a more active part in school activities.

Responsibility is not automatic. It takes time, effort and much thought to acquire such a distinctive quality and to develop it into a good habit. I think to avoid being careless and thoughtless is one of the best ways to become responsible and to practice it at my school. This also means practicing it off the campus as well as on the campus. It means being fully aware that my school is working for me and that I should be working for my school as well as for myself.

Title: Daniel Boone

The book is about Daniel Boone, a famous man, who helped our country during the French and Indian war.

Daniel Boone was married when he was twenty-one years old and he built a home in the woods. He had a son but the son died. Daniel Boone loved to hunt.

I like stories about famous people.

I sometimes watch "Daniel Boone" on television.

Title: Kendall of the Coast Guard

Author: James Wyckoff

Setting: Time: 20th Century

Place: Norwalk, Connecticut

Synopsis:

This story is an adventure story. It tells about a sailor named Tad Kendall who wanted to join the Coast Guard when he was eighteen years old.

Hugh Ryan was Tad's best friend. He was trying to tell him not to join the Coast Guard but later he signed up.

While Tad was in the Coast Guard, one exciting thing happened. When he was on the North Atlantic on a ship, a plane was in trouble near the ship. The plane carried 40 passengers and 7 people who made up the plane's crew. Tad was worrying about that. Finally the plane landed on the water. The men on the ship hurried and got ready to get the people out of the plane. Tad and other men got into a lifeboat but the waves were so rough that the lifeboat could smash into the plane. A voice called out, "Kendall, you are supposed to be a good swimmer. Right? Do you think you can make it from here to the plane with a line?" Tad said, "I will try." And he was successful. All the people got off the plane before it sank.

After Tad was back home, he told his parents the story about what he did in the Coast Guard. His parents were very proud of him.

I like the book because it was exciting. I think other pupils would enjoy the book.

Title: The Year of the Dream

Author: Jane Collier

This story was about Wendy and her family. They all wanted a boat so badly that her father decided they would save enough money to buy one. He heard about a boat stored at a nearby farm. The man who had owned it had died. Some cars of his and the boat were for sale. It was in good condition, but needed some fixing.

The family started a boat fund. Everyone in the family was working very hard earning enough money for the boat. They were almost up to the top when Beanie was hit by a car. It was a terrible crisis.

Wendy decided to write a story of what had happened. Without telling her, Wendy's aunt finished it and mailed it to a contest that was in the newspaper.

Later Beanie came home from the hospital. His mind was on the boat. Wendy and the others had to keep the real truth from him.

Suddenly there was a telegram for Wendy. She had won three thousand dollars from the contest! That helped pay for the hospital bills for Beanie and the boat they wanted so badly.

The two big tables in Palomar III's living room became an exciting raceway when Fred Gravatt brought his slot cars and race tracks to school. John Koranda, Gorman Low, Mike Barber and Eddie Chavez quickly became "chief engineers" and experts at manipulation.

After a party one night Mike Cardinale got into a Volkswagen. He couldn't find the ignition switch where it was supposed to be; he noticed that the light switch was partly broken, and that the windshield had no tint for sunglare. He became confused and then embarrassed when his date laughed at him. His own Volkswagen was on the other side of the street.

With her family, Kathleen Russell had a wonderful short trip to Solvaang, a small Danish village in California. Just like visiting in Denmark, Kathy?

Ellen Thielman and her mother had a rather anxious time when their train running from Detroit to Salt Lake City chugged slowly through a flood in Missouri. Ellen thought she was in the middle of an ocean with uprooted houses, trees and other things floating around.

Connie Paine's father bought a raffle ticket. At the drawing his name came up for first prize which was a trip for two to Hawaii! Connie, of course, accompanied her parents.

Monica Lane isn't interested in fishing. However, one day her uncle coaxed her to go along with him, and she did to please him. A few minutes after she threw in the line, she caught a nine-inch perch!

Howard Sultan's four and one-half month old collie pup won a second prize in a dog show recently.

Jeff Baucom told that the Van Nuys Baptist church deaf teenagers went on a tour through the Fox Studios and found it very interesting, especially the room where "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" had been filmed. While traveling on the Continental Trailways bus in Missouri, Lily Miller saw a freak accident. A wild turkey broke the right side of the front windshield, and feathers suddenly floated into the bus. The turkey, however, dropped dead on the road, and there was not a drop of blood on it.

While traveling with his mother in Canada, Tony Hackett ran into Miss Ann Richmond who is on our kitchen staff. A small world, isn't it?

Danny Cisneros and his family went to El Paso, Texas, C. Juarez and Chihuahua, Mexico, to visit relatives. They had lots of fun.

My Trip to the East

Now that I am back at school, I would like to write about the wonderful time I had while I was a member of the U.S.A. team at the Tenth International Games for the Deaf this past summer.

Early one morning I woke up and hurried to catch the plane to Washington, D.C. However, I missed the plane because of heavy traffic on the freeway. So my plane ticket was changed so I would leave in the afternoon. I flew alone instead of with my teammates. I arrived at Gallaudet and was met by my cousins, whose father is a senator, and my aunt. Later on the teams from other countries arrived at Gallaudet and a reception was given by the U.S.A. team. We enjoyed talking with our visitors and learning about the customs in their countries. We made good friends quickly, even with the Russian athletes. The U.S.A. team stayed at Gallaudet for three weeks. The last week was the week of the games. After the games were finished, the Russians had the most gold medals and therefore won the games for the deaf.

One morning I woke up and saw it was time to catch my plane for home, but I was too late again. That was the second time I had missed my plane. I found out the plane would leave that afternoon from Newark airport so I went to the subway to find my way to the other airport. I stayed in the subway station for several hours trying to find the way to the other airport. At last I found the way. My suitcase was a little too heavy for me to carry and I resembled a porter. I went back to the first airport, and a man who worked for the airlines took me in a helicopter to the Newark Airport. I discovered that my aunt was there and we enjoyed talking with each other for a couple of hours before I started on my trip back to California. I returned by way of Tennessee where I stopped briefly to visit with some of my relatives. Then my sister met me and we flew back to California together.

I had a wonderful time in Washington and New York.

wagon. He gave it to Kenny Curtis as a gift.

Lonnie Boyer went to Lake Tahoe which is located both in California and Nevada. She and her family met Danny Thomas at a hotel in Nevada. He sang and danced. She enjoyed meeting him. She thought Lake Tahoe was a beautiful spot.

Christine Cisler visited relatives in Iowa and Minnesota. She and her grandmother traveled by train from Los Angeles. They went on the Union Pacific railway. They stopped in Las Vegas for a short time. Then they traveled on to Iowa. They had a chance to visit the beautiful Herbert Hoover Library in West Branch, Iowa. It was built of brick. Christine made some pictures of the building. Her out of state trip was lots of fun.

Sharon Stevens camped at Yosemite and Sequoia National Parks. There were many people at both parks. She helped her mother with the cooking. She was tired when she returned home.

A few students in Class J went out of state during the summer.

Dick Stumbo visited his relatives in Ohio. It took him five days to travel from California to Ohio.

Irma Gonzalez went to Mexicali in Baja California. She and her grandparents visited many cities in Mexico.

Malinda Williams and her family went in Crater Lake, Oregon. It is a deep body of water located in the crater of Mount Mazama, an inactive volcano in southwestern Oregon. Track

The California School for the Deaf, Riverside, last spring won the new perpetual Arrowhead League trophy for varsity track. The new trophy is in the shape of a huge arrowhead and has plates to be inscribed with the name of the winning school for the next ten years. This new type of trophy will be used for all of the major sports by the Arrowhead League. We are very pleased to be the first team to win this trophy. We hope we can continue to keep it for many years. In league competition CSDR had the following record.

Varsity

March 25—CSDR, 1; Webb, 2; Aquinas, 3; Big Bear, 4.

April 22—CSDR, 1; Webb, 2; Aquinas, 3; Twin Pines, 4; Notre Dame, 5.

April 29—CSDR, 1; Rim, 2; Aquinas, 3; Big Bear, 4.

"B"

March 25—Webb, 1; CSDR, 2; Aquinas, 3; Big Bear, 4.

April 22—Aquinas, 1; CSDR, 2; Notre Dame, 3; Webb, 4; Twin Pines, 5.

April 29—Aquinas, 1; Rim, 2; CSDR, 3; Big Bear, 4.

In the League Meet the varsity standings were:

CSDR, 66½ points; Boys' Republic, 39; Webb, 27; Aquinas, 21; Rim, 19½; Twin Pines, 13; Notre Dame, 2; Big Bear, 0.

In the course of the year several school records were broken. Mike Mahoney set a new mile record before he became ill and had to drop out for the remainder of the season. His best time was 4:32.6. Stephen Strange broke his own record in the pole vault with a vault of 11 feet 6 inches. Jerry Moore set two new records with a 10.2 in the hundred yard dash and a shot put of 48 feet 3¼ inches. Mike Bielik set a "B" pole vault record of 10'1", and John Reynolds tied a "C" 100 yard dash record at 11.4 seconds.

Wrestling

Quite a number of new boys have enthusiastically signed up to try out for the wrestling squad. Although on a team basis last season, we just about broke even on close wins and losses, on an individual basis our meets with other schools were very successful. The boys developed greater self-confidence, skills and aggressiveness. They also developed physically, with greater strength, speed and stamina that has carried over into other sports—track, swimming and football.

Letters are going out to parents for permission and insurance. Please do not even remotely associate the fast, clean sport of high school wrestling with wrestling as seen on TV. Your boy will be well protected by strict rules of what is not permitted in scholastic wrestling, the same as in any other sport.

One of the former wrestlers, Greg Brown, was on the Riverside City College wrestling squad and placed third in both free style and Greco-Roman at the IGD games in Washington, D.C., last summer.

Several of our wrestlers have gone on to Gallaudet and to City College and we hope to hear that they have made the team. We hope they will continue to prime for the 1969 Deaf Olympics in Yugoslavia.

Football Forecast—1965

This may be the year for the CSDR football squad. Most of last year's varsity team has returned this year and we also have some excellent material in our freshman group. The "Cubs" have looked very impressive in their first two practice games.

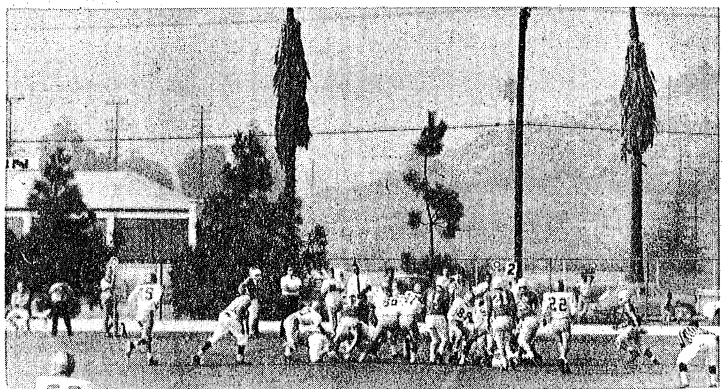

Eagle Mountain was completely overwhelmed by the Cub attack and was unable to mount any kind of an offense against even our reserves. The score in that game was 48-0. Against North High's JV the Cubs again scored pretty much at will (38-0) and the subs held them to a minus yardage in rushing. The only gains North could make were passes completed against our inexperienced substitutes.

Our high scoring backfield this year consists of two hard running halfbacks, Jerry Moore and David Cisneros with Keith Gamache, our driving fullback. Russell Gibbins and Steve Scolaro will alternate at quarterback. Our forward wall, averaging almost 200 lbs. per man, consists of ends Parker and Coates, center Greg Wilson, guard Lamberton and Mahoney and tackles Brewster and Idell.

Our defense seems stronger this year with Vincent, Abenchuchan, Jamison, Pealatore, Jensen, Reynolds, Diaz, Conti, Cardinale, Dan Cisneros and Ralph Gibbins making up the defensive unit.

The coaching staff feels that this should be one of the better years in CSDR football history.

CSDR's "B" team loses its first game to John North High's "B's. 13-6.

Power Sewing

The power sewing classes have started the semester with enthusiasm and vigor. Although the beginning classes are still in the process of learning the control of the machines and the making of simple seams and stitches, they have already begun to make small articles for the Community Hospital. They also have been making decorated pillows, and small stuffed animals. All of these articles are ornamented with rickrack, lace and buttons. The students are enjoying the new experiences learned in the class and are looking forward to making gifts for the Christmas holidays.

The advanced girls are making 30 gowns for the hospital. The girls are assembling and finishing the garments in a systematic production method. Last week the girls shortened the sleeves on 20 shirts for the P.E. department.

A Visit to the Butcher

by Hedy Udkovich

On September 31, my class, Miss Meek and I walked to Michaels, a super market, to see the butcher.

First, the butcher took us to a work room which was kept at 53 degrees. He showed us how he cut meat and how he made hamburger and sausage. The hamburger was made from beef which was ground in a large meat grinder. He put pork in the grinder to make sausage and then added spices. Next, he led us into a room called the cooler which was kept at 33 degrees. There he kept meat that would be sold soon. Then he took us into the freezer which was 9 degrees below freezing and boy was it cold! He kept food there from one to seven months.

We then looked at the meats on display for people to buy. They were labeled with the name of cut and price per pound. And do you know what the butcher did? He gave us 180 tortillas which were left for us by the salesman.
